

PSI CH1003 Smalcald Articles – Welcome!

Welcome to PSI CH1003 Smalcald Articles. This course was not designed to be an online course. Rather, the internet allows us to make this course available to you online. The assignments are arranged for you and your mentor to review and discuss together. You may also prepare your assignments and print them off for your mentor to review with you in person or via email. Be sure to read the two background articles by Richard Balge and Carleton Toppe. These readings will greatly enhance your grasp of and your appreciation for the Smalcald Articles.

At the end of the course there is a final exam. Compete this test and submit it to your course mentor.

Luther's confession of the unconditional gospel in the text of the Smalcald Articles continues to inspire. Professor Armin Panning's historical review is insightful and helpful. Enjoy your study!

If you have questions or comments for the course administrator, contact the PSI director at sorume@wls.wels.net.