

2 Also they teach that since the fall of Adam all people born in the natural way are born with sin, that is, without the fear of God, without trust in God, and with concupiscence; and that this disease, or vice of origin, is truly sin, even now condemning and bringing eternal death upon those not born again through Baptism and the Holy Spirit.

They condemn the Pelagians and others who deny that original depravity is sin, and who, to obscure the glory of Christ's merit and benefits, argue that a person can be justified before God by their own strength and reason.

19 About the cause of sin they teach that, although God does create and preserve nature, yet the cause of sin is the will of the wicked, that is, of the devil and ungodly people; who will, without help from God, turn themselves from God, as Christ says in John 8, 44: When he lies, he speaks his native language.
